72 Academically Qualified Seniors Make Up Girl Officers Batallion

The Girl Officers Battalion was originated in 1896. It consists of 72 academically qualified senior girls of Lowell High School. The Girl Officers are chosen at the end of their junior year. A competition is held involving various drills, gymnastics, dances and marching tactics on which they are judged by Physical Education Supervisors from out of town schools and colleges.

The girl officers assist the instructors, Mrs. Sally Burns and Mrs. Donald Johnson, as leaders in the Physical Education and help the girls with the work used in the gym classes. They meet at least once a week for discussions and instructions on training and leadership. The girls give much of their free time in serving as ushers and solicitors for many local and civic organizations as well as school activities.

The Girl Officers are now making plans for their biggest function: The Girl Officers Ball.

The 1969-1970 Girl Officers include: Patricia M. Mangan, Colonel; Deborah Bacos, Lieut. Colonel.

The five majors: Deborah A. O'Donell, Elizabeth B. Martin, Batya Kovler, Evelyn Bahon and Roberta A. Silva. Selected as captains were: Sharon Stankatis, Patricia A. Meehan, Barbara J. Salome, M. Linda Strombos, Margaret M. Shannon, Barbera L. Guilmette, Mary Claire Neary, Christine M. Gendron, Susan J. Matczak, Karen P. Jerow, Catherine A. Irwin, Donna M. Wojcik, Frances E. Crayton, Mary Ann Strykowski, Debbie A. Donaghue, Gail E. Lantagne, Gayle E. McAndrews, Susan M. Nelson, Carol M. McGowan, Mary E. Cocoran.

Adjutants named were: Deborah N. Rubin, Jacqueline A. Amlew, Ramano A. Romanauskas, Elizabeth M. McArdle and Diane M. Sharples.

Named first lieutenants were: Audrey S. Davis, Ellen M. Bailey, Mary E. Hancock, Kathleen P. Wayne, Ann Louise Blanchard, Joanne Sullivan, Dorothy I. Widtfeldt, Mary R. Gilbride, Ellen M. O'Connor, Soultana Rouses, Barbara A. Murphy, Kathleen M. Durkin, Andrea A. Mitides, Carol Beaudoin, Aphrodite Tavoularis, Suzanne M. Gibson, Jane E. Hanlon, Kathleen Iatrox, Barbara A. Abreu, Karen J. Boucher.

Bill Bailey Wins Award

Most Valuable Player

Bill Bailey, of Home Room 103, was recently presented the Acre Youth Organization's Most Valuable Player in the Senior League Award. The honor was bestowed at the AYO Annual Awards Banquet, held November 8, 1969.

Bill has been with the AYO for seven years; four in the Little League and three in the Senior, where he played with the Orioles under Coach Mike Leacacos.

A sophomore in the college course, Bill hopes to major in history education in college.

Health Program Makes LHS Debut

1969 . . . The year of the moon, the year of the Mets, and the year of the new Health Course at Lowell High School.

This course is very new and helpful in health education and has been indoctrinated as part of a program for all students of public high schools. It is now a Massachusetts State law that schools receive 120 minutes of Physical Education.

Albert J. Mangan, director of Phys Ed. at Lowell High School was interviewed and he stated that "The Health Program would cover all phases of health." "Drugs, alcohol, communicable diseases, first aid, good grooming, diet and posture are all on the aganda for '69-70 school year," Director Mangan explained.

He also said: "Some communities feel this is important enough to hold five times a week."

The boys classes are divided into two groups; one headed by Mr. John Beaulieu and the other by Mr. Fred Cox.

Mr. Beaulieu and Mr. Cox are new here at Lowell High and specialize in Physical Education, (Health).

The girls are also instructed by two new personalities. Mrs. Eileen M. Casey and Miss Barbara Katchen. There classes like those of the boys are divided into two groups.

In the class students and teacher hold open discussions of the day's topic.

One of the most important factors of life is our health. The many unsolved questions teenagers have involving physical and mental health are are touched upon or discussed. Students are encouraged to maintain the proper care of the important features of health.

It is the hope of the faculty and administration that this course will be a success since this is the first year it has been in existance at Lowell High School.

Man Must Learn . . .

In today's world we see more and more aggressiveness between different nations, every day. This seems like a part of our development where we are behind.

We are going so far ahead in technical developments, but why can't we control our aggressions better than we do?

With all the wars and conflicts between different nations, it looks like man still hasn't brought his instinctive aggressive drives under control.

Distributive Education

The Distributive Education class, under the direction of Miss. Claire A. Quigley, has an enrollment of 27 students. The officers are Thomas M. Hudzik-President, Martha A. Broderick-Vice-president, Donna M. Coulombe-secretary, and Paul N. Morrissette, treasurer.

All the students in this class are trained to become future leaders in marketing and distribution.

The purpose of the Lowell High School Chapter of Distributive Education Clubs of America is to develop a respect for education which will contribute to vocational competence, and to promote understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our free, competitive enterprise system. Future activities that are planned include attending the State Leadership Distributive Education Conference in March 1970 at the Sheraton Boston Hotel, and also a Field Trip to Essex Technical Institute Distributive Education Center in April 1970.

For the forthcoming Massachusetts State Contest Program, students will undertake projects to submit for competition.

Individual students who are doing Studies in Marketing are: Robert Garnhum-Oil Industry; John Dery-Food Industry; Carol Mousley-Service Industry; Ann Griffin-Home Furnishings Industry; Pat Quintal-Variety Store Merchandising; Vicki Rogers-Specialty Store Merchandising; Kenneth Hebert-Department Store Merchandising.

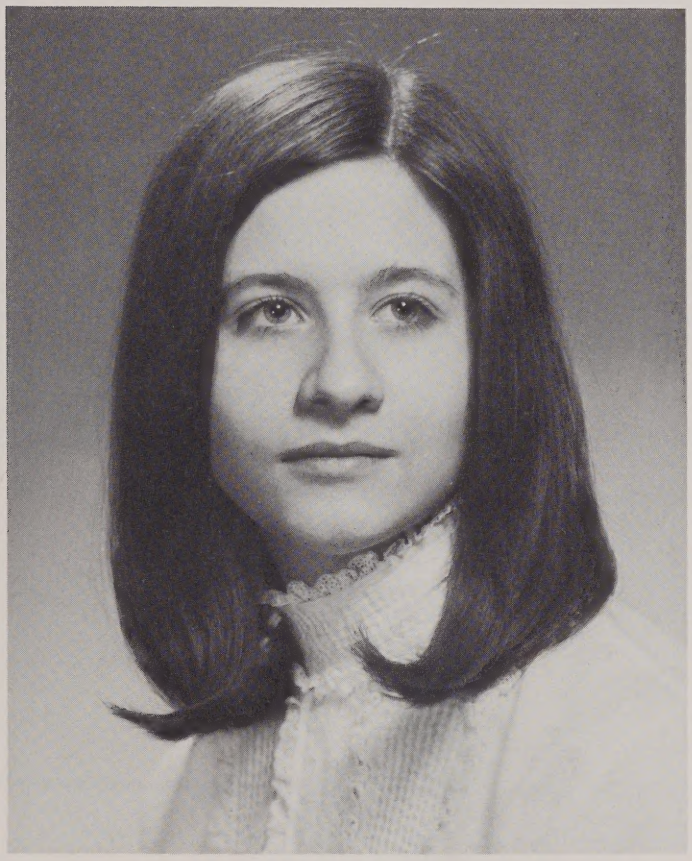
In Memoriam



RENA MANOLARAS

The Spindle Staff respectfully dedicates this page to the memory of Rena Manolaras who died, at the age of 17, on January 8, 1970. Rena was a member of this year's graduating class.

Headmaster

To the Graduates of 1970

The spindle is the symbol of your yearbook. The spindle is the long, round slender rod or pin in spinning wheels by which the thread is twisted and on which, when twisted, it is wound.

The tens of thousands of spindles whirling in the mills of Lowell first brought international fame to this city nearly 150 years ago.

During those years threads of millions of lives have spun a variety of patterns. In your years at Lowell High there may well have developed talent that will ultimately make some of you designers of a peaceful future for the world.

Aiming for excellence as you weave the pattern of your years, may you always use well what you possess today in order that you may have honest, happy, and successful tomorrows.
